WEAVERS OUT.

So Windham Silk Company Votes to Shut Down Plant for Indefinite Time.

The directors of the Windham Silk company held a long meeting Monday evening and following a thorough discussion of the matter of the walkout of the weavers in their employ Monday morning, it was unanimously voted to shut down the plant for an indefinite period.

It is reported the weavers are not worried over the matter, as they are credited with making statements to the effect that the proposed shutdown is only a bluff on the part of the officials. Those who are aware of the condition of the silk market at present and of business in general are free to admit that a shutdown will benefit only the stockholders of the silk company. The company has a good stock of manufactured goods on hand and will now be enabled to push out some of the finished product and have a general cleaning up.

Mills from fifty to ninety times as large as the Windham Silk company are at present operating their plants on a basis of from 36 to 40 hours per week with but almost no increase of increasing that working schedule for some time to come.

The walkout of approximately sixty weavers in the employ of the Windham Silk company will mean that the other eighty employees of the company will also be thrown out of employment that the action of the company is notwithstanding the present market conditions, and they will be idle for a period of indefinite length.

It is said that some twenty of the weavers who walked out were satisfied with the wage conditions and it is known that the bulk of the major portion of the eighty other employees were satisfied and thus 100 contented employees have got to suffer together with all dependents for the action of the company or so employees who were receiving a much better return for their labor than similar employees in mills throughout the state and New England.

LABORERS' SHORT STRIKE.

Wanted Pay Made up and an Increase of Daily Wage.

Eighteen laborers on the work train of the New Haven system in this city refused to go to work Tuesday morning unless they were promised what they thought was due them. The work train was held for several hours, unloading and laying rails between North Windham and Hampton, and the work has further been pushed with the assistance of the local gang. The laborers maintain that on Monday morning they worked hard all through the rainstorm and in the afternoon they were laid off. In the evening the members of the local gang found they had been booked for a half-day while the members of the East Hartford gang were given credit for a whole day. Therefore on Tuesday when the work train was started to pull out the eighteen did not get aboard, claiming that they would not do so unless given a full day's pay for Monday. They also demanded a raise of ten cents from $1.50 to $1.60 a day. "Everybody's doing it now," the strikers were told that nothing could be done about the matter Tuesday and they left the local yard. Later in the day the workmen who would not go back to work Wednesday morning. The men will be ready to go back to work this (Wednesday) morning when the work train pulls out about 7:30 o'clock.

Addressed Strikers.

Tuesday noon on Bridge street, L. W. agitators spoke from a stool to employees of the Quindick-Windham Manufacturing company, who gathered in a small group around the temporary platform. As soon as one speaker began hoarse and weary, he gave way to another, and thus the different nationalities were reached.

To Be Observed May 17 by Warren Chapter, R. A. M.

Warren chapter, No. 12, R. A. M., is to observe the 100th anniversary of the organization on Friday evening, May 17. The chapter's rounding out of a century of existence will not have been completed until the 19th, but as this date comes on Sunday the observance will be held on the date indicated.

The event is to be made a notable one. A banquet will be served in the chapter rooms, and grand lodge officers are to be present. A historical sketch of the organization is being prepared by Joe Seagans of East Killingly, second oldest living high priest of the chapter.

Warren chapter has an interesting history. Its first meetings were held in Woodstock, the gatherings being at the homes of members. Later meetings were held at the Hattie, a well-known hotel, which was destroyed by fire in 1823. The chapter and records of the chapter were burned, but a new charter was issued in 1834, the organization having remained in continuous existence.

MAY DAY PARADE. Rain Falls on Members of the 13th Co. During Day of Range Duty.

There was no drill of the 13th Co., C. A. C., Tuesday evening, as is usual, the weekly meeting being omitted on account of the men having been out for the May day parade at the rifle range near the power station of the Connecticut company Monday. The May day parade was not much like a holiday this year. The downpour of rain made the stay of the company anything but pleasant, but they stuck it out and went through their routine of range duty.

Colonel Gilbert A. Mitchell was present, as was also Captain Percy Morgan of Groton, inspector of small arms practice. Captain A. P. Woodworth of Groton, and Mr. Danahey as a guest of the company for dinner prepared by the company cooks, the command was served hamburger steak, mashed potatoes, bread and butter, pickles, doughnuts, cheese and coffee. The company returned here at 2:35 o'clock, spending the remainder of the afternoon until 5 o'clock at the army cleaning equipment, etc.

Rev. William H. Reynolds, who until recently was pastor of the Congregational church at Danville, and is now pastor at Elkon, has resigned as a member of the town school committee of Killingly. His place upon the committee has not as yet been filled by the remaining members.

OBITUARY. Mrs. Henry C. Knight.

Mrs. Kate (Hill) Knight, wife of Henry C. Knight, died at her home on Main street in Danielson, after an illness of two weeks.

Mrs. Knight was born in Plainfield 63 years ago. June 9, thirty-eight years ago, she was married to Mr. Knight at Plainfield. Since that time they have lived in Danielson, for 35 years in the house where she died.

Mrs. Knight is survived by her husband and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Hill of Danielson and Miss Annie Hill of Moosup.

FUNERAL. Miss Pearl Weldon.

Funeral services for Miss Pearl Weldon were held at L. E. Kennedy's undertaking rooms Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. W. Douglas Swaffield, of the Baptist church officiating. Burial was in the Dayville cemetery.

PUTNAM. High School to Continue Two Sessions. Community Work Already Begun—Meeting of Congregational Sunday School Teachers.

In view of the fact that an understanding has existed between the members of the town school committee of Putnam and the town school committee of Pomfret since the beginning of the present school year relative to having two sessions a day at the Putnam high school instead of one session, as petitioned for by a majority of the students in Putnam high school, the members of the Putnam school committee have voted that it is inexpedient now to make any changes in the school's sessions. For the present school year, at least, there will, therefore, continue to be two sessions a day at the high school.

Outgrowth of Danielson Chapter. In connection with the coming centenary anniversary of Warren chapter, R. A. M., of Danielson, it is of local interest to note that Putnam chapter, R. A. M., is an outgrowth of the chapter in the neighborhood. As the membership of the organization increased in this part of the county it was deemed desirable to organize another chapter, so the local chapter was formed from members affiliated in Danielson. The local chapter has been invited to attend the observance of the Danielson chapter to be held one week from Friday evening.

Unclaimed Letters. Letters addressed as follows remain unclaimed at the Putnam postoffice this week: Charles E. Blood, Frank Freeman, H. W. Ramsey, L. Russell, Melvin E. Stark, Frank Wilbur, Miss Ruth Cushman, Mrs. Jennie Lashure, Mrs. Jno. McAndrew, Mrs. Jennie Monahan, Mrs. Ida Sabby.

To Elect Teachers. The members of the town school committee are to hold a special meeting Saturday afternoon for the purpose of electing teachers in the schools of Putnam. The meeting will be held at the school house in Putnam.

Several loads of lumber have been delivered at the children's home, which is being used in constructing the new barn for which the Wheaton Building & Lumber Co. of this city has the contract. The barn will be completed early in the summer.

Working for Spotless Town. Some Putnam people are not waiting for cleanup week before beginning to improve the appearance of their backyards and other unsightly property spots. They were at work Tuesday, having decided that if such work is to be done immediate attention would be no disadvantage.

Good Road from Webster Insured. It was announced Tuesday that the selection of the town of Webster has been secured from the Massachusetts state highway commission that $5,000 will be available this summer for the construction of a state road from Webster to the Connecticut line at Thompson. This strip of Bay state road will connect with the new state road from the Massachusetts line this summer, giving a fine route from this city to Worcester.

Horace N. Hassard, rector of the Rhode Island general assembly, just adjourned after the 1912 session, is to retire from public life. Mr. Hassard, who spent many years of his life in Putnam, has represented the district of Newport at the capitol in Providence and for a number of years has had the honor of calling the house to order on the opening day. He is now 72 years of age.

Because of the fact that a Webster physician took the Webster town auto ambulance into the town of Thompson to bring a patient to a hospital, the board of health of Webster has passed a rule that is intended to prevent the use of the machine in carrying patients from Connecticut towns without the permission of the board.

News in General. Only routine business was transacted at the weekly gathering of the board of selectmen of Putnam.
